Original German version dated 19th April 2022

Based on the General Academic Regulations for DAS and CAS courses at the Zurich University of Applied Sciences (ZHAW), the school management has determined the following:

1. Scope

This appendix regulates the CAS in Coffee Excellence, provided by the School of Life Sciences and Facility Management of the Zurich University of Applied Sciences and supplements the General Academic Regulations for DAS and CAS courses at the Zurich University of Applied Sciences (ZHAW).

2. Costs

The costs for the CAS in Coffee Excellence are published in the registration documents.

3. Admissions

3.1 Regular Admission

Those who meet the following requirements will be admitted to the CAS in Coffee Excellence:

- Degree (diploma, licentiate, bachelor's or master's degree) from a state-recognised university or previously recognised equivalent school.
- At least 2 years of professional experience in the coffee industry or related areas (food, hospitality management, etc.) at the time of registration.
- Good written and verbal communication skills in English.

3.2 'Sur Dossier' Admissions

Persons who do not have a university degree will be admitted if, in addition to good written and verbal communication skills in English, they meet one of the following requirements:

- An equivalent qualification to those listed under section 3.1.
- At least 3 years of professional experience in the coffee industry or related areas (food, hospitality management, etc.) at the time of registration.

3.3 Admissions decisions

The programme director decides on admissions or rejections.

4. Duration and mode of study

The course comprises of 15 credits, is run as a part-time course and is designed as an eLearning course.

Online Learning Modules A, B and C consist of guided and autonomous self-study as well as individual contact lessons in the form of "Virtual Classrooms" and "Virtual Lab Sessions".

The course lasts a total of 63 weeks. One module lasts 21 weeks.

The ECAS Coffee is designed to be completed in its entirety, with modules A, B and C being taken consecutively. In exceptional cases, it is possible to only attend individual modules or to participate in the modules out of sequence.

5. Credit Awarded for Previous Achievements

Knowledge acquired elsewhere in the previous 4 years can be credited up to a maximum of 3 ECTS points.

Any application must be justified. The programme director decides on whether previously acquired knowledge will be credited.

6. Module plan and module grading

Module name	Module type	Module evaluation	Number of credits
Module A The Coffee Fruit – Green Coffee, from Tree to Trade	Compulsory module	Grade	5
Module B The Coffee Bean - Transformation and Composition	Compulsory module	Grade	5
Module C The Coffee Cup - Extraction and Sensory Perception	Compulsory module	Grade	5

7. Repeating modules

Assignments may be repeated once.

A charge will be made for repetitions.

8. Lesson attendance

For the virtual classrooms and virtual lab sessions, a minimum of 80% attendance is mandatory.

9. Module Registration

Registration for a module also includes registration for assessed tasks, and participants are obliged to complete these tasks.

10. Assessors

Grades are awarded by mutual agreement between the assessor and the examining lecturer. If no agreement can be reached, the examining lecturer will make the final decision.

The programme director may call on assessors to evaluate additional examinations or student work, and defines their responsibilities.

11. Study Completion

A passing grade for the continuing education course is awarded when the minimum compulsory attendance has been fulfilled, all modules have been passed and a total of at least 15 credits have been awarded.

12. Certification

After successfully completing the course, the “Certificate of Advanced Studies in Coffee Excellence” is awarded by the ZHAW.

13. Final provisions

These academic regulations come into effect on 19th, April, 2022. They replace the regulations from 15th, March, 2021.

14. Transitional provisions from 19th, April, 2022

These study regulations shall apply to students who commenced their studies under the study regulations which came into effect as of 15th, March, 2021, and will not have not completed their studies by 30 December 2022.

- a) Students who will have successfully completed a module by 30th, December, 2022, must complete the remaining modules in accordance with these regulations.
- b) Students who will have successfully completed two modules by 30th, December, 2022, must complete the remaining module in accordance with these regulations, and must complete an Individual Project worth three credits.
- c) The following regulations apply for students who will have successfully completed three modules by 30th, December, 2022:
 - a. Students who will have successfully completed modules A, B, and C, must successfully complete an individual project worth three credits to compensate for the missing credits.
 - b. Students who have passed Modules A, B, and D, must complete the missing Module C under these study regulations.

The evaluation and weighting of the modules which were successfully completed under the previous study regulations will remain unchanged.
