

Responsible Investment Gold

Sustainable Development Goals

- Environmental impact: proper management of hazardous materials /wastes and education on environment preservation
- Social impact: number of lives directly (miners) and indirectly (families, community...) impacted
- Governance impact: clear, transparent and honest communication to the public.

The gold market at a glance (source WGC)

Global Supply for gold in 2021 (in tons)

Global Demand for gold in 2021 (in tons)

Collaboration, the way forward

Gold sourcing is too challenging to be done alone

Select partners who share your philosophy and have a trackrecord proving it (refiners, mines...)

Rely on existing initiatives standards and initiatives

Include CFO / finance managers / compliance managers and educate them on ESG topics

Choose your impact

- Gold is coming from mines, whether directly or indirectly
- You are part of the impact created by mining
- By engaging with mining communities, you can have leverage on working conditions, gender equality, environment preservation... ASM represents appr. 20 millions workers worldwide

Lead by example

- The inclusion of ASM as required by the OECD is not difficult, but it requires a change of mindset.
- The banking/investment sector has the power to change the industry.
- Together, we can make gold shine for all stakeholders of your value chain.
- There is no responsible gold without including all existing legal/legitimate sources of gold

The next steps?

- Learn about existing initiatives and engage
- Partner with reliable refiners and engage with NGOs
- Educate, internally and externally
- DARE
- Communicate
